Realtor Safety Course $69

We're now introducing our Realtor Safety Training Course that helps give realtors concepts for safety since they're often by themselves in a home or area that is often unfamiliar to them. A training course designed to provide real estate professionals with the necessary tools and strategies to stay safe while showing homes and businesses. This course is taught by law enforcement trainers that teach defense concepts to law enforcement as well as security and military personnel. These trainers know what legal aspects you could face as well as the dangers that can exist if your mindset is not in place. The importance of having adequate training is essential for you and your team to return home to your loved ones at the end of the day. Your offices can contact us today about setting up a 2-hour session where we come to your offices and discuss and demonstrate valuable information that can help you and your staff stay safe in a vulnerable environment.
