Liabilities that a facility and officer face

Reducing the Threats of Intake

The rationale behind creating this 8-hour course was based upon the need for corrections officers, sheriffs, and other detention facilities to have a better understanding of how to address the threats that are encountered during the intake process. The Intake at a jail is one of the most dangerous aspects of Corrections. Subjects that enter the facility often are in the worst shape of their life, both physically & mentally. Their health, emotions, and mental status are often in an altered and dangerous state, and the intake officer must be able to diagnose the problem and protect the subject and facility on all levels. This course will incorporate scenario-based training where officers will act out many of the common scenarios that Correctional Officers face.
