Course Description: In this comprehensive 8-hour training, law enforcement officers will delve into the complex dynamics of suicide by cop (SbC). Through engaging discussions, case studies, and practical scenarios, participants will gain valuable insights and tools to navigate these high-stakes encounters. Here's what the course covers:

Understanding Suicide and Suicide by Cop:

- Define suicide and explore the unique context of SbC incidents.
- Recognize behavioral indicators associated with SbC.

Types of SbC Incidents:

- Explore the various typologies and patterns of SbC.
- Discuss real-world examples to deepen understanding.

Officer Response Strategies:

- Learn effective communication techniques tailored to SbC situations.
- Understand the roles and responsibilities of officers during these events.

Managing Less Lethal Options:

- Evaluate less lethal weapons and their appropriate use in SbC scenarios.
- Consider de-escalation tactics and alternatives to deadly force.

Our overarching goal is officer safety and community well-being. By fostering empathy, communication skills, and tactical awareness, we aim for positive outcomes—even in the most challenging circumstances.
